

EVS 2025 – Agricultural Valuation in a Changing World

Climate – Geopolitics – Technology – Markets

Agriculture is at the heart of Europe's adaptation to climate change, protection of strategic interests, and technological ambition whilst preserving very different national markets.

The conference will gather top leaders and specialists to discuss all these aspects against the backdrop of guidance on agricultural valuation in European Valuation Standards 2025 to be revealed in draft form at this conference for the first time.
